READY. RESOURCEFUL. RESPONSIVE.

NAVSUP Enterprise

NAVSUP and Supply Corps Mission, Vision and Priorities

Our Mission

To provide supplies, services, and quality-of-life support to the Navy and Joint warfighter

Our Vision

To be the Navy's trusted provider of supplies, services, and quality-of-life support

“ We have a key role in building the Navy the nation needs. Our focus will always be on the fleet, on the Sailors at sea and ashore who keep the Navy strong, and all warfighters in harm's way, on ensuring we do our part toward success in operations, from training to effective combat engagements. We will always be ready to serve, ready to sustain the fight, and 'Ready for Sea.' ” –Rear Adm. Michelle Skubic

Our supply community is uniquely poised to improve the readiness and lethality of our Navy and Joint forces. Our team must leverage its skills and vision to increase the speed and reliability of our supply chains, and accelerate the return of ships and aircraft to the fleet and flight lines.

We must continue NAVSUP's reform and modernization efforts with a focus on improving our processes and increasing speed of support. Ultimately, our processes must achieve best value, balance cost and performance, and ensure success through the last tactical mile.

Improving our auditability supports our readiness goals by managing risk and challenging our current operating assumptions. The audit process enables our leaders to make more confident decisions and overcome challenges by being able to balance priorities, customer service, and strategic systems management.

NAVSUP succeeds only through the talent and drive of our workforce, and we must take care of our Navy supply teams around the globe by instilling the right culture, right training, and right focus.
