Command Video “What we do”

Est. Time: 3 minutes

Fade up – music (motivational, uplifting)

Whatever the Navy does, we’re there.

Wherever the Navy goes, we’re there....and sometimes we’re there before anyone else arrives.

We are Naval Supply Systems Command, supporting our United States Navy around the world, around the clock. We fight by providing warfighters what they need to accomplish their mission.

The more than 22 thousand military and civilian men and women of NAVSUP are trusted to contribute to the defense of our nation by delivering sustained global logistics and quality-of-life support to the Navy and Joint warfighter.

We manage supply chains that provide material and repair parts for Navy aircraft, surface ships, submarines, and their associated weapons systems.

We are responsible for many Quality of Life programs that help Sailors and their families every day... including Navy Exchanges, Navy Lodges, the Navy Postal System, and the Navy Personal Property Program.

We oversee the Navy Food Service Program to ensure our Sailors get fresh, nutritious, food prepared fresh every day.

We design, develop, and maintain secure information systems supporting numerous activities in the functional areas of logistics, supply chain management, transportation, finance, and accounting.

We help the environment by reducing plastic waste on ships, facilitating green procurement, and supporting the Navy’s commitment to energy security and independence through hydro-renewable fuels.

We can be relied on in times of global crisis to aid with humanitarian assistance and disaster relief for victims of hurricanes, wild fires, tsunamis, and earth quakes.

We are proud of our work and the work we do in concert with our logistics partnerships and allied nations.

Our extensive community of civilians, Supply Corps Officers, and enlisted supply personnel are experts on Navy business within the provider enterprise. Our ability to harness the power of great ideas, solve problems, and deliver efficiencies is unmatched. We uphold our promise to be good stewards of taxpayer dollars and strive to provide best value in everything we do.

We are Naval Supply Systems Command.
